Harlekino wall covering

Harlekino was created during design studies for a range of acoustic products in 2013. The search for wall coverings of any size with the possibility for a designer to create various patterns ended in the diamond shape of the Harlekino pattern. The traditional harlequin pattern is colourful and designed to make a statement. The diamonds of the Harlekino give an opportunity to create a beautiful wall covering of any size that adds soft volume to any space.

The 2mm thick felt is eco-friendly and sourced from Germany's leading supplier, reinforcing Studio Lawrence's belief in using only the highest quality European materials and manufacturing. The diamonds are available to engage designers to come up with patterns that stand out in a room or blend in with the interior.

Harlekino is a playful and dynamic piece, designed to improve both aesthetics and acoustics.
